

HONORARY HOSTS

Lisa Murkowski, U.S. Senator

The Midnight Sun Charity Shoot is one of my favorite Alaska traditions. It's a chance to spend time with family and friends, enjoy the Alaska outdoors, and get in some good shooting practice in at the same time. Alaska features world-class hunting and shooting, and this event truly showcases that fact. It's also an opportunity to practice gun safety and responsible ownership. As a U.S. Senator, I'm a proud supporter of Alaska's sportsmen and women, and I will always work to protect Alaskans' outdoor lifestyles, including greater access to their public lands. Have fun out there today!

Dan Sullivan, U.S. Senator

Like many Alaskans, I am an outdoorsman who enjoys hunting, fishing and outdoor recreation, and am proud to pass on those traditions to my children. As your U.S. Senator, I fight hard every day to preserve Alaska's important outdoor traditions and look forward to being an Honorary Co-Host of this year's Charity Shoot. I am convinced the education programs conducted by the Outdoor Heritage Foundation play an important role in preserving our Alaskan Way of Life. I encourage everyone that hasn't already done so to become a part of this effort to preserve Alaska's great outdoor traditions. See you on the range.

David Wilson, Senator

Alaska has abundant options for outdoor recreation. I am married to a lifelong Alaskan who grew up on the Lower Yukon River. We love living in the Mat-Su Valley and we understand the importance of all of Alaska's outdoor resources. As an Alaska State Senator, I want to protect access to public lands and the hunting and fishing rights of Alaskans. I also support tourism and recreation opportunities where commerce, culture, recreation, entertainment, education meet.

The Outdoor Heritage Foundation of Alaska helps people to provide Alaskans the skills and knowledge to enjoy the outdoors in a safe, responsible manner. The Midnight Sun Charity Shoot is an exceptional opportunity to support this work and I am honored to co-host for this year's event.

Pat Pitney, State Budget Director

I am excited and honored to participate in the Midnight Sun Charity Shoot. This fundraiser is a great opportunity to support the valuable educational programs offered by the Outdoor Heritage Foundation while enjoying the fun and camaraderie of shooting with others. I love that the programs promote conservation of our state's resources while giving Alaskans the skills and training needed to safely take advantage of all the outdoor activities this great land has to offer. I look forward to joining others in participating in this worthwhile cause.

Andy Mack, DNR Commissioner

Having the great fortune to have been raised in Alaska, I am honored to be invited as an Honorary Co-Host of the Midnight Sun Charity Shoot. Alaska's great wilderness expanses are unparalleled where hunting, fishing and other outdoor pursuits are well recognized as part of the Alaskan Way of Life. The education programs supported by this event are invaluable for securing the future of conservation in our wonderful state, and as Commissioner of the Department of Natural Resources I am happy to know that the Outdoor Heritage Foundation of Alaska is dedicated to providing such conservation based education programs. I had a great time participating in the Shoot last year and I look forward to another action packed, fun filled day. I also found it encouraging that so many individuals and businesses are supporting this effort. If you are not a sponsor, please consider becoming one.

Don Young, U.S. Congressman

I am proud to have participated in the Midnight Sun Charity Shoot for the past 8 years. The Shoot is an important fundraiser for the Outdoor Heritage Foundation, whose work educating Alaskans is an important part of the culture of conservation in our state. The OHFA's programs deserve our support so that we may ensure Alaska's traditions surrounding our fish and wildlife resources continue on for generations to come.

Cathy Tilton, Representative

As a lifelong Alaskan who grew up fishing and hunting with her grandparents in Chugiak, Rep. Tilton understands the value of the heritage of fishing, hunting and trapping to Alaska's history and culture. Rep. Tilton remains an avid outdoorswoman. From fishing to hiking to sport shooting, she embraces Alaska's outdoor lifestyle. Rep. Tilton remains committed to the educational mission of the Outdoor Heritage Foundation of Alaska as a means to impart those invaluable outdoor skills to younger generations of Alaskans.

Eddie Grasser, President Outdoor Heritage Foundation

It has been 15 years since Senator Murkowski and I met to discuss the need for a premier conservation education program. Out of those early discussions came the formation of a major fundraiser, "The Midnight Sun Charity Shoot", which to date has raised nearly a million dollars for outdoor education programs such as the extremely popular Becoming an Outdoors-Woman series. Our goal at the start was to educate Alaskans to be safe and responsible whenever venturing outdoors, along with instilling in their character a strong conservation ethic based on sustainable use. We have had tremendous success and would invite you to join this effort, helping us reassert the original meaning of conservation, the wise use of our resources for present and future generations.
